TEACHERS

"What is the matter with the teaching profession and how can its evils be cured?" is a question that has been freely discussed by both teachers and others in a contest which is drawing to its close in the "Delineator". A contest is being held by this magazine in which it is attempting to solve the teaching question of the nation. Today we are presenting the ideas suggested by the teachers as to why teachers leave the profession. Tomorrow we will give their suggestions as to how these troubles might be remedied. The chart which will be presented during the next few days will be worth considerable study by those interested in education and teaching.

FINGER PRINTED BULLETS TO BE USED IN TRIAL AT FAIRFIELD

New Experiment is to be Used In Murder Case by Dr. E. O. Henrich

(By Universal Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., March 29.—Science today revealed perfection of another weapon in the war against crime, when E. O. Henrich, eminent Berkeley criminologist, former Chief of Police of Alameda, and lecturer at the University of California, announced completion of an experiment by which he has "finger printed" bullets.

Tomorrow in the court of Judge William O'Donnell, in the little town of Fairfield, Solano county, a man's life will be at stake in the first use of the "finger printed" bullet test ever introduced in an American court.

The case constitutes an important chapter in the history of American criminology, attorneys here declare.

Martin Colwell is on trial there for the murder of John McCarthy, a street department foreman. McCarthy was shot to death by an unseen assailant, at the door of his home. The gunman used a .38 caliber, five chambered hammerless revolver.

The police arrested Coywell, who was found near the scene and who carried a revolver, with one chamber empty, of a similar caliber to that used by the killer.

But there was no direct evidence to connect Colwell.

Then E. O. Henrich stepped into the case as the prosecution expert. His entrance as a witness marked the first time in an American court of introduction of a micro-

Council Discusses Planting Of Trees

The question of tree planting was discussed by the city council last night. According to a decision reached some time ago, the planting of trees at least twenty-five feet from the intersection of streets was found to be satisfactory. The request for a decision by the council was made by residents who are considering the planting of trees. The matter was referred to the Superintendent of Parks.

Officials Lauded For Work At The Bath House Opening

A letter from the Westside Progressive association lauding the services of City Manager J. A. McVittie, City Engineer E. A. Hoffman and H. H. Hurley at the opening of the Municipal natatorium was received by the city council last night. The city council in adding its commendation to the services of the officials mentioned the letter which was written on the behalf of the citizens of Richmond filed among the records of the council.

TO BUILD BUNGALOW

Construction of two homes will begin immediately, according to plans of C. H. Kelly of the Kelly grocery, who has purchased three lots at Twenty-second street and Barrett avenue from the former owner, John F. Byrne, of San Francisco. The deal was handled by Leo Perisco and Frank Foster. Kelly plans to sell the homes after they are constructed.

LIGHT REQUESTED

A petition signed by fourteen residents of the district, requesting that a light be installed at the intersection of Twelfth street and Nevins avenue, was presented to the city council last night. The petitioners state that there is need of a light as Twelfth street is unlighted and is hazardous to the residents. The matter was referred to the lighting committee to report on at the next meeting.

Action Is Asked For Bids On the City Wharf

Associated Oil did not Threaten To Take Away Business Says W. A. Patton

Branding as false a statement attributed to "Mr. Hutchinson" that the Associated Oil company would withdraw its business from the Richmond Municipal Wharf if a lease for the wharf was granted to Captain Dixon, W. A. Patton appeared before the city council last night and as a taxpayer requested information as to why action had not been taken by the council on bids called for and submitted to the council on the leasing of the wharf some time ago.

"More than a month ago the city council advertised for bids and I understand received three bids for the operation of Richmond Municipal wharf No. 1, by a private operator," Patton declared in addressing the council.

A. T. Rasmussen Is Found Dead In His Home

Alfred T. Rasmussen passed away at his home at 134 Behrns street El Cerrito last night from an acute attack of heart trouble. Rasmussen, who was 40 years of age and a native of Denmark, was found on the kitchen floor at his home by his stepson, William McNamara. A doctor was immediately dispatched. He declared that the aged man had died instantly.

The body is now at the Wilson and Kratzer chapel pending funeral arrangements.

The deceased, who was a resident of El Cerrito for a number of years is survived by his widow, Mrs. Loretta Rasmussen; a brother, Louis Rasmussen of Richmond; a sister, Mrs. A. C. Christensen of Albany and a stepson, William McNamara.

El Cerrito Board Makes Bid For The Richmond Annex

The Board of Trustees of El Cerrito at their meeting held Monday night, passed a resolution of intention stating that the City of El Cerrito, in the event that the Richmond Annex territory annexed itself to El Cerrito, would provide the necessary lights and fire hydrants, prune the trees each year and not use any part of the Richmond Annex as a dumping ground.

A committee consisting of Chas. Zimmerman, Kirk Gray, Fred Lutz and George Conlon of the trustees and A. C. Davis, J. B. Willis, met on Friday night and decided the number of lights and hydrants needed in the Annex. The report of the committee will also be incorporated in the resolution of intention next Monday night.

KEYES RETURNS TO L. A. AFTER NEW PROBE IN TAYLOR CASE

Is Expected to Make Formal Statement of Developments Of Eastern Trip

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, March 29.—After a nation-wide check of evidence regarding the murder of William Desmond Taylor, noted film director, at his home here Feb. 1, 1922, District Attorney Asa Keyes and Deputy District Attorney Harold L. Davis returned to Los Angeles this afternoon. They went at once to the district attorney's office where, it was stated, a formal statement regarding the events of their trip east would probably be issued later.

The District Attorney before his arrival was quoted today as saying that while in New York he had obtained a sworn statement from a man, formerly an inmate of an eastern prison, to the effect that a fellow prisoner had confessed the Taylor murder to him.

The description of the prisoner who made the purported confession tallies with that of the "strange looking man" seen running from Taylor's apartment by Mrs. Douglas McLean, a neighbor, after Taylor was shot, Keyes said.

Mrs. McLean's description of this man, which she gave the police shortly after Taylor's murder, corresponded with that of Edward Sands, the director's secretary.

Sands has been sought for by the police for four years. "Other evidence which we have goes a long way to corroborate this confession, and I am satisfied we have been on the right track in our search for the slayer," Keyes was quoted as saying. The man seen running from (Continued on Page 8)

Bootlegging On Wane In Texas

(By Universal Service)
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 29.—Bootlegging is on the wane in Texas, according to J. M. O'Hara, assistant administrator, in a report filed here today.

People are beginning to realize that this poison they are drinking will either kill them or run them crazy. Analysis of homebrew and beer in our Fort Worth laboratories show that fifty percent of the liquor we seize is poison.

Prohibition officers are making no particular attempt to stop the home brewer but are concentrating on the higher ups who support the bootleg industry, he said.

Building Permit Granted Church

The city council last night favorably acted upon the petition of the Grace Lutheran church's petition asking for permission to erect a church structure on the corner of Thirteenth street and Barrett avenue. The petition together with plans of the architect presented last week, referred to the city planning commission before final action would be taken, was reported to the council last night and received the sanction of the council.

Shooting Gallery Permit Is Refused

YEOMEN MEET

A business session of the Richmond Homestead of Yeomen was held last night at the Woodmen's hall with W. L. Lane in charge.

TO PROBE MEXICAN CONCESSION TO JAPANESE LAND SYNDICATE

Way Is Cleared For Big Improvement

LAST OBSTACLE IS REMOVED BY CITY COUNCIL

New $250,000 Warehouse is To Be Completed Within Four Months

STREET TO BE CLOSED
Map Correction is Ordered by Council Putting Section in The Industrial District

The last hindrance to the construction of the Standard Manufacturing company's new office building and warehouse on Dana street was removed last night by the favorable decision of the city council to close a portion of Dana street in order that the company may proceed with its building program.

Although the district was originally zoned as industrial, through an error, it was omitted from the industrial zoning maps. The city council ordered the error corrected and the correction placed on the map.

The city planning commission investigated the request made by the manufacturing company in a petition to the city council last week and reported favorably on the matter of closing Dana street from its intersection at Critchett avenue to its southeasterly end. The company owns all the land lying on each side of Dana street and will in no way inconvenience residents in that district by making the improvements which it finds necessary to make.

The costs of the structures, which will be of reinforced concrete are estimated at $250,000, according to the plans and specifications prepared by the architect, J. J. Donovan, of Berkeley. The building, which will be 250 by 135 feet, will be ready for occupancy within four months.

The property on which the warehouse is to be constructed adjoins the enamel works in North Richmond.

Stores Will Be Open Good Friday

There will be no general closing on Good Friday of the stores in Richmond, according to plans made at a meeting of the board of directors of the Richmond Merchants Association yesterday afternoon. Members of the association who will go to church on Friday are at liberty to close their stores during the church hours.

At this meeting President Ward McRacken appointed the better business committee for the year. It includes Harry Albert, M. E. Hazleton, L. Garfinkle, Clinton Smith and Fred Newsum.

A. L. Burdick was appointed to arrange the plans for the participation of the Merchants Association in the Scouts ceremonies that will be held here on April 27. Burdick will make tentative plans for the observance of the event.

SOFT DRINK PERMIT

The request of Charles Green for permission to conduct a soft drink establishment at Cutting boulevard and Canal street was referred to the license committee last night by the city council and the decision will be reported at the next meeting of the council.

Survey Of Dry Enforcement Is To Be Made Soon

(Copyright 1926, Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, March 29.—Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, Dry Czar, will make a nation-wide survey of the prohibition enforcement situation at first hand, this coming summer, he announced today. Soon after July 1 he plans to start on a 10,000 mile tour of inspection. He will journey through the southwest, studying narcotic as well as liquor conditions on the Mexican border, and then spend considerable time on the Pacific coast.

He plans to return by way of the Canadian border, checking up on measures to halt smuggling across the line. Dry officials expect the trip will result in a general tightening up of smuggling and illicit manufacture of liquor throughout the country.

Andrews today announced appointment of F. P. Hambach as prohibition administrator for Florida. Hambach succeeds Col. B. T. Simmons, who resigned some weeks ago. The new administrator has been assistant administrator at Tampa.

James H. Lee, who has served as a county sheriff, was appointed deputy administrator at Jacksonville.

BUILDING PERMITS

Two permits for minor improvements were issued yesterday by City Building Inspector E. E. Grow. G. Vargas secured a permit to construct a three-car garage on the east side of Fifth street, between Bissell and Chanslor avenues. The cost of the construction, which will be done by the owner will cost $150.

E. C. Baskett was issued a permit to build a sleeping porch to his home on the south side of Eighteenth street between Maine and Florida avenues. The cost of the addition will be $300 and W. A. Jones is the builder.

A permit was issued Saturday to A. Anderson to erect a one-story cottage on Johnson avenue between Twenty-ninth and Spring streets. The cost of construction is estimated at $2000. The owner will do the work.

THREE MILLION ACRE GRANT IS TO BE PROBED

Formal Representation Will Be Made to Mexico and Japan if Reports are Found True

LAND CLOSE TO BORDER

Is Declared to Be Direct Violation of the Monroe Doctrine And Lodge Resolution

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, March 29.—Rumbling ominously, government machinery was set in motion today to verify a report from Los Angeles that the Mexican Government has granted a Japanese Land syndicate concessions to 3,000,000 acres of land on the Pacific Coast of lower California close to the American border.

If it is true, formal representations will be made, it was intimated at the State department, to the Mexican and Japanese Government protesting the concession as a violation of the Monroe Doctrine and the Lodge resolution passed by the Senate in 1912 when the Japanese sought to acquire lands on Magdalena bay.

Two million acres involved in the present concessions are located, it is said, on the shores of the same bay which is regarded by American experts as a military and naval base of immense importance.

Possession by a foreign power, they declare, would constitute a serious menace to the United States in time of war. The report (Continued on Page 8)

"His condition is essentially unchanged from what it was this morning but the rest has undoubtedly given him some needed strength. Temperature 99, pulse 110, respiration 22."

THE STAGE COACH COMES BACK

Romance and Glamor of Old Coaching Days Recalled
As America Turns To Motor Busses To Solve Transportation Problem

MODERN GOLIATHS OF ROAD WOULD ASTONISH
OLD-TIME TRAVELLERS

TURN back the pages of history two hundred and fifty years. A triumphant blast of the horn, the heavy rumbling of the wheels, the pounding of hoofs as the horses put forth their final effort, the arrogant crack of the whip echoing like the report of a blunderbuss, signalled to the incredulous loungers about the inn that the new stagecoach from London to Bath had actually completed the first half of its journey in unheard-of-time, thus living up to the unbelievable claims of the waybills.

With a rattle and a jolt that threw the passengers into the last stages of chaotic confusion, the mud-spattered vehicle drew up with a flourish amid the gaping crowd in front of the "Dancing Bear."

The Flying Coach had arrived!
Fifty miles in a day and a half!
Six miles an hour!

Bill-posting was in its infancy when, sometime between the years of 1667 and 1670, the following conspicuously displayed notice startled blasé Londoners out of their accustomed calm; but it had the desired effect of drawing a large crowd of the curious to Ludgate Hill at five o'clock in the morning to give a rousing though somewhat derisive send-off to the brave souls who had engaged passage on this speed fiend of the 17th century:

"FLYING MACHINE"

"All those desirous to Pass from London to Bath, or any other Place on Their Road, let them Repair to the Bell Savage on Ludgate Hill in London and the White Lion at Bath, at Both which Places they may be received in a Stage-Coach every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, which performs the whole Journey in Three Days (if God Permit) and sets forth at Five in the Morning."

"Passengers to pay One Pound five Shillings each, who are allowed to carry fourteen Pounds Weight for all above to pay three halfpence per Pound." The six stalwart individuals, who dared this new departure were seasoned travellers, but they were viewed with awe by the wide-eyed bystanders, and no doubt looked upon their own daring with some trepidation. These Londoners were booked for Bath, and with due regard for the proviso had intrusted themselves to Providence.

Dashing through the streets of London, so named by courtesy only, the passengers had been twice nearly upset long before the outskirts of the metropolis had been reached, had been shaken out of most of their senses, frightened out of the remainder of them, and their load had been lightened to the extent of their six pocket-books by a gallant knight of the road who bade them "stand and deliver"—an order as terrifying as the "money or your life" of a later day.

Daring Pioneers

No wonder that these travellers were beset by grave misgivings at their rashness in taking part in this initial essay of a "flying machine," as they stopped again for a change of horses.

But the welcome by the excited yokels and the respectful attentions of a considerate host made them bury their apprehensions for the present, and under the influence of roast beef washed down by fine Rhenish wine they told with a great deal of gusto and belated relish of their perilous adventures. When the all-too-short resting period was over and fresh horses had been attached to the coach, the hardy travellers climbed back into their galloping prison with very bold swaggers indeed, which disappeared immediately at the first terrific jolt as they got under way.

History does not record the remainder of the mishaps on this momentous hundred-mile journey to Bath, leaving the fate of the riders in the hands of Providence, as had been wisely cautioned in the waybill. Whatever their fate, the first stage-coach was readily recognized as a great improvement over the lumbering and tediously slow stage-wagon which preceded it, and in a comparatively short time the roads were full of "Flying Machines," "Comets," "Flashes" and other crack coaches.

So bad was the state of English roads during the 17th century that it took three days and three nights of incessant travel to get from Manchester to Glasgow, a matter of two hundred miles or so. The rutts were like trenches and were up to the axle trees most of the time.

Living Ballast

When these deep rutts were encountered the passengers were called upon to assist by shifting their weight. "Now, gentlemen, to the right!" would come the cheery request from the coachman, wherefore all the passengers threw their combined weight to balance on that side. The process was repeated to the left if necessary, and on a typically bad stretch of road the passengers must have resembled so many Jacks-in-a-box jumping in every direction.

It is interesting to note that the lapse of a century made a great change, in the waybills of the route between London and Bath described above. The time between the two points was reduced from three days to two, and in spite of the dizzy speed that this must have necessitated it was seemingly no longer imperative to make special arrangements with a just Providence, for the phrase "If God Permit" was conspicuous by its absence.

The early English stage-coaches were clumsy machines at the best. With no windows, no seats or railings on top, and an uncomfortable basket rumble behind, they were crude and inconvenient enough in comparison with the dashing mail-coaches which were evolved a century later and which were such a favorite subject with English painters, engravers and writers for many years.

"Too Fast! Too Fast!"

De Quincey and Thackeray paint vivid pictures of these colorful vehicles as they dashed about the country carrying important personages and messages at a speed that greatly annoyed the more conservative folk of the day, who petulantly declared that there was no earthly reason "why the post should be the swiftest conveyance in England." They pointed out with fiery vehemence the dissipation of chariot racing which, they claimed, had been instrumental in bringing down the great Roman empire in ruins about the heads of the wicked.

The type of high-speed motor stage coach which is making transportation history

Samuel Penn makes many mentions of the flying coaches in his inimitable dry manner. Dickens takes a shipshape at the stage-coach picture which had achieved great popularity, saying: "Colored prints of coaches starting, arriving, changing horses; coaches in the sunshine, coaches in the snow, coaches in the wind, coaches in the mist and rain, coaches in all circumstances compatible with their triumph and victory, but never in the act of breaking down or overturning."

Sporting Coachmen

Even these dashing mail-coaches were not without their drawbacks, however. Just as Dickens suggests, an occasional upset or breakdown marred many a journey. This was traceable in many cases to the sporting blood in the veins of the coachmen, who could not bear to inhale the dust or be bespattered with the flying mud of a rival equipage. That the passengers frequently aided and abetted this practice is recorded in many a bit of historical lore, and the thrill of the chase, the gaining inch by inch on the other coach, the swaying vehicle and thundering hoofs, not to mention the cheers and jeers with which they greeted each other must have whiled away many an exciting hour on a long and tedious journey. After all what was a mere upset?

As an old school blood thus summarized the feeling against the advent of the railroads: "You get upset in a stage-coach—and there you are! You get upset in a railway train, and, damme, where are you?"

thrived until their desperate deeds were seen no more in the romantic light of hazardous but thrilling adventures, but were considered as a great menace to law and life.

Travel by land in the colonies was for many years very limited in amount, and equally hazardous and inconvenient. Travel by boat was so greatly preferred that most of the settlements continued to be made along the seacoast and the banks of rivers. Even the perils of canoe travel were preferable to the miseries of an overland journey.

Growth of Land Travel

As the pioneering spirit asserted itself the harder souls pushed on to new frontiers, and some system of transportation and communication overland was imperative. The stage-coaches, prairie schooners, covered wagons and Conestoga freight-wagons were gradual developments, and their number multiplied astoundingly in the western advance. When stage-coaches were introduced in England in the seventeenth century it was not long before American-made coaches were dashing along colonial roads between the principal towns and cities at the unbelievable liking even the smaller towns saw the gradual abandonment of the old stage coaches. Next, the advent of electrically driven street cars made those drawn by horses as extinct as the dodo. Only the horse-drawn busses remained, and these likewise disappeared from the city streets when the first motor coach, built in France, and operated in New York City, marked another advance in the development of transportation facilities.

Within the last eight years, as a result of a general awakening to the possibilities in this new travelling medium, bus lines have sprung into existence all over the country. It is estimated that today there are about sixty-special courier personally conducts such parties, indicating points of interest along the route, making hotel reservations in advance, and generally supervising the comforts and pleasures of his travelling guests. Such tours are now frequently arranged between many large cities, from New York to Florida, and even to California.

"The Acme of Comfort"

The third form of service, however, rendered by this "trackless Pullman" is the most widespread of all. With regular and scheduled transportation service between convenient termini, it closely resembles the stage-coach lines of a century ago, but with a difference. And what a difference! The crude vehicles of that day have been transformed by the magic wand of modern invention into luxurious conveyances that transport their passengers over smooth roads with a maximum of comfort and a minimum of effort. Extra sized absorbers shield the rider from all jolting. The specially cushioned pullman chairs with the metal spring foundation make even a long journey as tireless as sitting in an easy chair by your own fireside. Large windows kept spotlessly clean give an unimpeded view of the countryside and permit proper ventilation of the car. The ventilation is further aided by scientific devices such as air-vents in the roof and sides of the car. A huge, powerful, but quiet motor capable of great speed and endurance takes the place of the snorting steeds of stage-coach days, and does not have to be replaced at various points along the route. Tastefully subdued upholstery and other well-kept fittings on the inside of the coach complete the picture of the case of this modern way of travelling.

The Utilities Corporation of Coral Gables, Florida, possesses the largest transportation fleet of this type in the world. With 75 super-powered and luxuriously equipped motor coaches travelling on regular schedules into Georgia, North Carolina and Alabama, it has set a new standard of comfort and dependability, which has done much to educate the travelling public to the advantages and conveniences of long-distance motor transportation. The 220 miles a day, four-day run, between Coral Gables, Florida, and Montgomery, Alabama, is one of the most striking individual instances of motor coach achievements. A Flying Coach indeed!

Phenomenal Runs

And daily these phenomenal runs are lengthened and increased. The coaches of the Coral Gables fleet recently have embarked upon regular schedules from North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Mississippi, leaving and arriving at Louisville and Memphis with all the precision and dependability of crack railroad trains. One of them made a special trip from Coral Gables more than half way across the continent to Omaha, Nebraska, from Omaha to Chicago, and from Chicago back to Coral Gables again, a distance of 7,000 miles! The advent of motor coaches has seized upon the popular fancy just as speed of eight miles an hour in imitation of their English cousins.

Step by step the latest form of modern transportation may be traced back to the ancient stage-coach. The swift, smooth-running, greyhound-like motor coach of today is a cross between a Pullman car and an oversized limousine. The first automobile was but a buggy with an engine. The present day railway coach is but a modernized version of the first railway cars, which in turn were but stage-coaches with four iron wheels flanged to run on rails. And there you are.

Passing of the Horse

Horse-drawn coaches for long distances, and horse-drawn busses and street cars, continued to grow in number and in popularity until the end of the nineteenth century. Then the extensive operations of the railroads five thousand busses in use in the United States alone.

Tours à la Bus
There are three distinct forms of service rendered by the motor coach. As an adjunct of street car service within city limits the larger municipalities are welcoming the motor bus, single or double decked, as an aid in lessening traffic congestion. The Fifth Avenue Coach Company is probably the oldest and largest fleet operator of this kind in the country, while the London General Omnibus Company with a fleet of some 4,000 motor busses carrying 2,000,000 passengers a day, leads the world in city bus operation.

Tours de Luxe, in which large parties go on sightseeing trips of from one to a thousand miles or even more, are becoming increasingly popular. A the "flying machines" of the seventeenth century. Over ordinary road conditions and during practically the whole year, the highways of the country will hum with the speeding coaches, making the matter of a trip on one of them almost as casual as hailing a taxicab. In the majority of cases the expense of a motor coach journey is but little more than by train, and is frequently less, and the time consumed about the same. When a stop over night has to be made, as from Miami to Jacksonville for instance, the journey by bus takes a little longer than by train, but this phase is without doubt but a temporary one. It is already prophesied that the day will come when sleeping accommodations will be provided on the coaches just as on the Pullmans, and the time record lowered considerably.

ONE reason why meat is such a popular food is because it leaves one with such a feeling of satisfaction. People who are accustomed to eat considerable meat and are deprived of it, are not at all satisfied with other foods. They feel that there is something lacking. During the war time we talked a great deal about meat extenders to extend or spread the meat flavor so that it flavors other foods and has satisfied the desire for meat although only a small amount of meat itself is served. Meat Pie is a good meat extender. It is also a good left over dish and is economical as it is prepared with a cheap cut and makes a little bit of meat go a long way.

Meat Pie

This is the recipe for Meat Pie:

- 1 small onion
- 4 stalks celery
- 6 tbsp. meat drippings
- 2 pounds of beef or veal, a cheap cut
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1 cup cooked macaroni (about 1/2 cup uncooked)
- 2 cups cooked diced carrots
- 2 cups peas
- 6 tbsp. flour

A baking powder biscuit dough made of:

- 2 cups flour
- 3 tsp. shortening
- 4 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup milk

Method: Dice and brown the onion and celery in 1 tablespoon of meat drippings. Add the meat and stir well. Cover with water. Add salt and pepper and let simmer until tender. Remove meat from liquid and cut in small pieces. Add cooked macaroni, carrots and peas. Make a gravy by combining 5 tablespoons of the meat drippings with 5 tablespoons of flour. Mix to a paste and cook well. Add the onion and celery and cook 10 minutes. Place the meat and vegetable mixture in a buttered baking dish. Cover with gravy. Make the baking powder biscuit dough, roll out and cut with a biscuit cutter. Place biscuits on top of meat and gravy. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven, 460° F. This amount will make 10 servings.

Some of the fat may be cut from the meat for the drippings, or you may use any other meat drippings. If there is very much fat on the meat, it may be necessary to remove some of the melted fat before you make the gravy. Remember that if there is more fat than flour in the gravy it will be greasy.

The directions for cooking the meat read, "Let simmer until tender." Do not allow the meat to boil

Grocer Is Again Arrested On Bad Check Complaint

At liberty on bond charged with passing a no-funds check, T. C. Pressler, Danville and Walnut Creek grocer, was again placed under arrest charged with a second similar offense.

On this second complaint, Blake, Moffitt and Towne, accuses the grocer of issuing a check for $79 without funds in bank to cover the amount.

His grocery stores at Walnut Creek and Danville have been placed under attachment to satisfy creditors.

The first complaint was sworn to last Friday by Harry T. Silver, Walnut Creek publisher, who claims that Pressler gave him a worthless check for $50.

It is said that checks totaling $1,215 have been drawn by Pressler, who is said to have left the management of his stores to his mother-in-law ten days ago, before creditors began to make demands upon him for settlement.

Faces Charge Of Embezzlement

Charged with embezzlement, Julius C. Martin was arrested Saturday by Deputy Sheriff J. W. Smiley.

John Capra, Richmond dairyman who swart to the complaint, charges that Martin illegally appropriated for his own use the sum of $313.76, while acting as agent for Capra in September 1925. Unable to furnish bond of $2,000, Martin was lodged in the county jail at Martinez, awaiting trial.

American Legion In Drive For Membership in State; Expects Greatest Drive In History

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 29.—California department of the American Legion with a quota of 31,346 members is looking ahead in a nation-wide campaign to make 1926 the greatest membership year in the history of the organization.

According to a bulletin received here today from national headquarters, this department had attained 32.58 per cent of its quota, according to membership returns on the books of the national treasury on March 15. In accordance with the national membership program, the department quotas for 1926 were set considerably in excess of their 1925 total membership figure.

Florida was the first department to surpass its quota, going "over the top" in quota on March 11. The fifteen leading departments in percentage of quota raised by March 15 were: Florida, 100.86; Wyoming, 93.21; Idaho, 86.67; Oklahoma, 79.00; West Virginia, 69.43; Kansas, 65.73; Minnesota, 64.20; Oregon, 63.80; Maine, 61.31; Arizona, 60.21; North Dakota, 59.99; Illinois, 57.00; Vermont, 56.59; South Dakota, 56.43; New Hampshire, 54.36.

In the pre-March membership activity three Legion departments, Idaho, West Virginia and Florida, surpassed their 1925 membership before March 1, 1926. Three departments "over the top" before March 1 is an unprecedented record in the Legion.

National membership contests already finished and now under way will play a big part in making 1926 the record membership year, Legion officials declare. The D'Olier, MacNider and Emery contests, ending thirty days prior to the national convention in October, are inspiring departments to greater membership efforts.

The D'Olier contest will be won by the department enrolling the highest percentage of its eligible veterans. The MacNider trophy will go to the department attaining the highest percentage of its preceding year's membership. The Emery cup will be awarded to the department having the highest percentage of its average membership for the four preceding years.

National Adjutant James F. Barton in a membership message to department officials here said: "The national organization of the Legion is engaged in a tremendous effort to build a bigger and stronger Legion. Membership is vital, for membership gives us strength to accomplish the big objectives that lie before us. Your national officers appreciate your efforts of the past and are confident you will continue them. Confident of your support and grateful to you for your contribution to the Legion, it is my earnest desire that 1926 be your biggest and most successful year. More power to you."

Washington's camp laid quiet. But, though quiet, it was ever ready and on the lookout for trouble.

It was the middle of the eighteenth century, and the French and Indian war was just at its opening.

Then one day along came a band of friendly Indians. They warned the colonists that the French were coming. They believed that the French were getting ready to pounce upon their enemies very soon because they were lying concealed not far away.

Washington was too good a soldier to allow the warning of the Indians to go unheeded. With about forty men he set off in the middle of the dark night. He came upon the French just at sunrise and the opening attack was a complete surprise to the men who had meant to be the ones to do the surprising and attacking.

Of course they sprang at once to their guns and the battle which followed was short and fierce. It lasted but a quarter of an hour, but in that short time one of the English had been killed and three wounded. Of the French ten had been killed and twenty-one wounded. One of the French escaped into the forests. The Frenchman Jumonville was in command of his men and he was slain in the battle.

The French have sometimes called his death an assassination. They claim sometimes that he was the bearer of a peaceful letter of warning and that to molest him was in violation of the war code. But the colonists were never able to accept that theory or explanation. They believed that no peaceful envoy would be lying concealed in the very neighborhood of the enemy. An envoy would have delivered his message and gone about his business.

The battle had been a success, and it is no wonder that young Washington was elated. The war had opened auspiciously for the English.

Orinda News Items

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Josephine Miller, to Albert G. Camille of Louisiana. He is an artist, who completed his education in a large San Francisco art school. The romance began four years ago while both were students in the same school. The wedding will be a fall event. Camille is connected with a large commercial art concern in San Francisco.

THE TUNNEL

The Orinda district is again the scene of great activity by the East Bay Utility district, under the able leadership of Division Engineer George Blair Sturgeon.

FEDERATED CLUBS MEET

On March 24 Mrs. Delaveaga gave a luncheon at the Orinda Country club house to the Federated Clubs of Contra Costa and Alameda counties and visiting members from clubs representing the entire state, there being 129 assembled. Mrs. Delaveaga and Mrs. Woodbury, assisted by Mrs. McVey received the guests. When seated, Mrs. Timothy Kendall, president of the Mount Diablo division, in a very happy speech introduced Mrs. Woodbury, who acted as hostess of the officers' table, to the assembled guests. Seated at this table of honor were Mrs. Delaveaga, Mrs. Brooks of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Roach of Oak Grove, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Wood of Concord, Mrs. Riley, treasurer of State Federation, Mrs. Sholl, Mrs. Campbell, president of Oakland Federation; Mrs. Owen, of San Mateo, Mrs. LaArmond of San Jose and many other of equal prominence. There were all made known to each other and those present by Mrs. Woodbury.

Mrs. LaArmond was afternoon speaker and made a wonderful address under the caption of, "Back to the Home."

It was decided to give a dinner on April 6, in honor of Mrs. Bradford, state president for the past four years, now retiring. Splendid refreshments were served and it is hoped that this successful meeting is to be but the first of a series of reciprocity affairs of the same nature.

A REPRESENTATION

On last Friday a farwell party was tendered Mrs. W. T. Wheeler by all the ladies of Orinda. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Tiethe, where a regular banquet was served the lady guests present.

During the afternoon a beautiful gift, the joint expression of all the members of the Orinda Union P. T. A. to their departing historian, was presented. A beautiful ceremony was made of it, and the gift was delivered by the small daughter of Mrs. Rudy. Mrs. Wheeler made a little speech of appreciation of the loving thoughtfulness of her friends. She leaves this week for residence in San Francisco, after a trip south.

Washington's camp laid quiet. But, though quiet, it was ever ready and on the lookout for trouble.

It was the middle of the eighteenth century, and the French and Indian war was just at its opening.

Then one day along came a band of friendly Indians. They warned the colonists that the French were coming. They believed that the French were getting ready to pounce upon their enemies very soon because they were lying concealed not far away.

Washington was too good a soldier to allow the warning of the Indians to go unheeded. With about forty men he set off in the middle of the dark night. He came upon the French just at sunrise and the opening attack was a complete surprise to the men who had meant to be the ones to do the surprising and attacking.

Of course they sprang at once to their guns and the battle which followed was short and fierce. It lasted but a quarter of an hour, but in that short time one of the English had been killed and three wounded. Of the French ten had been killed and twenty-one wounded. One of the French escaped into the forests. The Frenchman Jumonville was in command of his men and he was slain in the battle.

The French have sometimes called his death an assassination. They claim sometimes that he was the bearer of a peaceful letter of warning and that to molest him was in violation of the war code. But the colonists were never able to accept that theory or explanation. They believed that no peaceful envoy would be lying concealed in the very neighborhood of the enemy. An envoy would have delivered his message and gone about his business.

The battle had been a success, and it is no wonder that young Washington was elated. The war had opened auspiciously for the English.

Unwed Girl Mother of Two Will Ask $50,000 For Breach of Promise

Miss Lillian Byers of Los Angeles, has directed her attorney to file suit against Emile A. Maloof, for $50,000, charging breach of promise. She alleges Maloof took her to California four years ago and promised to marry her and that though two children were born, he refused to carry out his promise because he liked some one else.

Bath House Heating Plant Is Accepted By City Council

The installation of the heating plant for the pool at the new natatorium having been completed and City Engineer T. A. Hoffman having inspected the work and found it to have been according to the plans and specifications, the city council last night accepted the work done by John Grayson as approved by the City Engineer in his report to the council.

FIRE ALARM WIRES

Ordinance To Be Drafted On The Erection Of Fences

The "spite fence" again lifted its head and looked down upon the city council last night. Now who built the fence, no one seems to know. Not that it makes any difference as far as the city is concerned, because the city is powerless to act. No ordinance covers "spite fences."

The owner of the property adjacent to the home of F. Reynolds, 448 South Thirty-eighth street blames the owner, according to Reynolds who appeared again before the city council last night to see if that body could make his rooms lighter and airier by ordering the fence pulled down.

But the city is powerless. Now the state law takes care of some "spite fences." But the only ones that the state will concern itself with are those over ten feet in height and this "spite fence" measures exactly ten feet above the ground. So what can the state do?

Neither the state nor the city can pull down the offending fence. It began to look as though the fence would stand in spite of everything. But the city council has found a way.

It authorized the City Attorney to draft an ordinance making the erection of fences over a certain height so expensive that those seeking to spite their neighbors would be like cutting off their noses to spite their faces if they built the offensive walls. Thus "spite fences" are doomed in Richmond.

Orchard To Be Planted In The Diablo Valley

BRENTWOOD, March 29.—One of the largest development projects in the Diablo valley has been assured when a deal involving sale of 217 acres in the Brentwood Irrigation farms by the Balfour Guthrie company to R. E. Owens of Haywards was closed yesterday.

Within the next thirty days 137 acres of the land lying west of Marsh creek is to be leveled, cultivated and planted to apricots. Because it is late for the planting of apricots, ever effort is being made to rush the work.

More than 8000 apricot trees are now on the ground ready for planting. Special equipment is being used to pump water to the trees as soon as they are planted.

BANK BANDIT IS TO FACE COURT

MARTINEZ, March 29.—Contra Costa county's amateur bank bandit, Walter Johnson, 24 year old negro, will be formerly charged with attempted bank robbery before Justice Matt Ward of Antioch on Tuesday. Johnson has made a confession and it is possible that he may ask for leniency, as it is his first offense, when he appears before Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie here.

Johnson was taken to Oakley on Saturday by Sheriff W. M. Veale, where he was identified by O. M. Champlin, the nervy cashier who drew a gun and forced Johnson, who was armed, to flee. Later he made a complete confession to Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoye. It is reported.

Special Demonstration Of Murphys Famous Brushing Lacquer
On Saturday, 3rd day of April at Dougall's Hardware Co., Macdonald Avenue, there will be a Special Demonstration of Murphy's Brushing Lacquer. This is one of the most recent and wonderful products that has been presented to the public in recent years. This Lacquer has been used very successfully in Auto Industries for a few years, but this product had to be used with a spray. The Murphy Varnish Co., famous for "Day-cote" have perfected a Brushing Lacquer, which can be used by any amateur with perfect success. Beautiful finishes can be obtained on Furniture and Floors, and everything where interior paint and enamel has been used. The job when finished is dry and can be used in half an hour and is practically indestructible. It will be an hour well spent if you call at Dougall's Hardware Co. and see for yourself "the last word in Brushing Lacquer."

Every-day magic left in this age of amazing short-cuts. CHAIRS that flop into beds . . . bags that suck up dirt . . . tiny ticking things that count all day long for you. Daylight any night just by pushing a button. A stream that never stops till you turn off a faucet. Any voice you want, talking to you from a cage on your desk or wall. Actions of yesterday, of people miles away, going on on a curtain before you. Stilled throats singing to you from discs; distant throats singings to you from nothing!

Uncanny, daily magic—this, due to national advertising. Advertisements have given you flashlights, telephones, typewriters, automobiles, cold creams, new ears, new hands, new feet, new faces, new emotion pictures. They have given you new eyes, ions. They have urged such wide use, so lowered prices, that almost wishes are autos, almost beggars can ride. Through advertisements you've laid down the shovel and the hoe. You can buy a whole harvest ready-to-eat in cans. You've hung up the fiddle and the bow, for a radio. There's little old-time work

Read the advertisements. They keep you to the fore of modern life

OAKS DRUB CUBS
The Oakland ball nine is sizing up as a wonderful team according to the looks of the game played on Sunday at the Oakland park. At this game the Oaks defeated the mighty Chicago cubs by a score of 3-1. The Mission team lost two games to the Chi team and the Seals lost three games to them so it looks, on paper, that the Oaks have a better team than the Seals. The Oaks should come through this year with the pennant or at least in second place.

FRY BROTHERS WIN
In what is considered the best exhibition of golf in the Bay region for many moons the Fry brothers, Fred, Earl and Mark, scored a brilliant victory over the Espinosa brothers, Abe, Romco, and Henry, at the Chabot course on Sunday. The winners, playing best ball, turned in a card of 64 while the Espinosa boys came through with 65. The most exciting putt of the game came at the ninth green when Earl Fry holed a 15 foot putt for a 2.

DEMSEY MAY FIGHT
Wuxtry Demsey may fight Dempsey has been telling the bored fighting world that he will fight Willis on Labor day but now the sheets come out with headlines that Demsey will meet Gene Tunney on Labor Day at New York with Tex Ricard promoting the bout. If by any accident Demsey should meet Tunney there will be one grand scrap and J. Demsey Esq., stands a chance of being carted away with an "ex" before his name. We are wondering what the Chicago people are thinking since they were sure that Demsey was going to meet Willis at the Windy City on Labor Day. And what is Harry Willis, the gentleman of color, thinking?

TODD VS. CAMPBELL
The main event of the Oakland Auditorium show on Wednesday night will be a ten round match between Ronald Todd, the British middleweight champion and Frankie Campbell. It is reported that both Campbell and Todd are shaping well in gym work.

PANTHERS MAY PLAY HAWAII
The University of Hawaii has wired the University of Pittsburgh that they are willing to guarantee $10,000 and the expenses of twenty players if the Pittsburgh college will stage a post-season game at Honolulu on New Year's day. The Pitt Panthers have not announced their plans.

Scout Troop Holds Interesting Session

Troop 4, of the Boy Scouts, staged its meeting at the Scout's hall last night under the direction of R. F. Cox. Games were played and a snake race and a mile race run at a scout pace was held. The Jackal patrol won the races. The knot tying contest was won by Bob Rice who tied nine ten-foot knots in one minute and a half. Two visitors were present at the meeting, George Lakeman and Inky Petchette of Rodeo, Fitchett, who lead the boys in songs and ran away with all honors for bugle calls.

Tennis Club Has Good Games On Courts Sunday

Fast and furious tennis games were staged at the tournament held by the Richmond Tennis club on Sunday. The games started out with a snap and came through in big style. By the looks of some of the scores and the ability exhibited by the local players, there is the making of a second Bill Tilden among the men.

The women's singles were featured by the playing of Miss Hazel Olsen who defeated Miss Helen Gately in two swift exciting sets to the tune of 6-4 and 6-2. Miss Gately is one of the best players in the local club and Miss Olsen displayed wonderful talent in defeating her. L. F. Moore was umpire for the match.

Beauty From Within

Facial beauty cannot come from cosmetics. It must come from within. Anything that mars the complexion—pimples, blackheads, oiliness or blemishes—is due to blood impurity. Medical science has found a new way to correct it. Physicians are prescribing it to millions. And they consider it one of the marvels of modern medicine. It is a gland secretion, derived from beef livers. It stimulates the liver, multiplies the flow of bile. And no other method does that. One result is prompt relief of constipation. The bile floods the bowels—keeps them clear. That result comes in a few hours. But bile is also Nature's antiseptic. It combats the germs in the intestines—the germs whose poisons cause so many bad complexions. A new flood of bile is the greatest bioactive science knows. That liver gland secretion is embodied in Dioxol tablets. Each tablet represents ten drops. We urge you to learn what it means to you. The results will amaze and delight you. "Clip this advertisement. Take it to our Special Agent, La Moine Drug Co., and he will give you a liberal sample of Dioxol free."

Pullman Nine Wins From Oakland Team

Soaking the Smith Hardware team of Oakland by a score of seven to five, the Pullman Shop baseball nine swatted the pill in a practice game played in Oakland Sunday.

Kamb and Hawkins pitched and McElroy caught for the Sleeping-car men, while Miller and Viano did their stuff for the hardware nine.

Those playing for the Pullman team were: McElroy, c; Kamb and Hawkins, p; Burke, 1b; Negro, 2b; Daley, ss; Lawson, 3b; Wetzel, lf; Roberts, cf; O'Rourke rf, and Cornel and Press, utility.

Such Is The Game Known As "Golf"

For many years, J. P. has been trying to improve his golf form at the local courses but on Sunday the said J. P. gave up in disgust. J. P. began to cultivate a wonderful form, that is he thought it was wonderful, until Sunday.

He had his stance and address down to a pat and would await the little white pellet down the alley for 150 yards. He beats J. S., his rival of yore by two strokes and though he had conquered the world. But Sunday came and his joy was overwhelming when he drove 200 yards. Then little Stevie, the caddy stepped up.

"Lemme drive once, sir."

"Sure, go ahead, think you can drive that far? Here use my $18 driver."

"Thanks, sir, but I'll use this old driver of mine." Stevie drew out the old battered, wire bound, cracked, driver that some one had thrown away in disgust. Stepping up to the tee he took about one thousandths of the time that J. P. took to address the ball and then came the whirr of the driver and the sharp crack as wood met the ball. The battered ball slammed down the alley 300 yards.

J. P. promptly took out his brand new set of clubs and very quietly broke each stick across his knee.

"Here, Kid, take the bag—I'm through! Ten years to cultivate a drive of 150 yards and you, a prattling infant steps up and makes 150 yards better! I quit."

Such is the game called golf.

Army Flyers Did Low Flying Says Chief

That the low flying of aviators, which has received the protests of residents, has not been done by local flyers, but by aviators stationed at Crissy field, was the report made by Chief of Police Dan Cox last night to the city council.

Chief Cox also reported that he had sent a letter to the commanding officer of Crissy field calling his attention to the nuisance and the protests of residents annoyed by the frequent occurrence of the low-flying planes.

Gall Bladder Troubles Gone! To Whom It May Concern: For over a year I had trouble in my gall bladder, pain on my right side, vomiting and a general rundown condition. On February 23rd of this year I had an attack of appendicitis, the pain of which was so severe that I could not sleep at night. I came to see the Chew & Chew herbarists and after taking one dose of herbs I was greatly relieved. I continued to take the herbs for a few more weeks and I am all well now. March 14, 1926.

HEEDED MOTHER'S ADVICE
Oakland, Cal. Feb. 26, 1926.
For more than a year I suffered from hemorrhage from a tumor. During this time I was treated by several physicians, all of whom agreed that an operation was the only thing that could help me. Neither my husband nor I liked the idea of the knife. Upon the advice of my mother who, after having an operation on the right side, the wound forming a fistula which had never healed for 14 years, had found complete relief and fistula healed by drinking the Fong Wan Herbs, I decided to try them. Owing to my terrible condition and my extremely poor health, it took about six months before I was entirely well. I am now in splendid health and my old trouble have been completely vanquished. I formerly lived at 1805 Howard street, San Francisco, but have recently moved to Oakland. My phone number is Market 6550.

Keyes Returns To Los Angeles After New Probe

Taylor's house was responsible for his murder, according to Keyes. Coincidentally with the disclosure of the "second-hand confession" Keyes announced the finding of two new love letters written by Mary Miles Minter to Taylor. The district attorney took occasion to again declare that neither Miss Minter or Mable Normand have any time been involved in the actual slaying.

The new love notes of Miss Minter to Taylor will partially replace those which have disappeared from the records, Keyes indicated.

"The notes however, will have no part in any prosecution which may ensue," Keyes was said to have declared.

"Miss Minter was in love with Taylor and wrote the sort of notes that girls in love usually do. There was nothing in them that indicated jealousy of thwarted affection."

Keyes said he now had in his hands all evidence that is obtainable at this time.

"We now have to trace the prisoner who made the 'second hand confession' and to continue our efforts to find Sands."

Action Asked For Bids On City Wharf

the city from $40,000 to $45,000 a year, if accepted.

"In spite of these bids I understand that the council has been negotiating with Fred W. Parr, Parr, I understand, not only did not submit a bid, but refused to do so.

"The manner in which the business at the Municipal wharf is being handled at the present time is being viewed with a great deal of dissatisfaction by many of our citizens, and I would like to be informed as to when the council intends to take action on this matter."

"With the present feeling I feel certain that another bond issue could not be floated. In fact I doubt if enough signatures could be obtained to get such a measure on the ballot."

Councilman E. J. Garrard, who was acting as mayor in the absence of Mayor W. W. Scott, informed Patton that the leases were and are being considered by the council.

"This is a big thing," declared Garrard, "too big to be handled on short notice. There are many angles which must all be looked into with a great deal of care."

"Another matter which I would like to call to the attention of the council at this time," declared Patton, "is a statement which is attributed to a 'Mr. Hutchinson' who stated that if the lease for the wharf was granted to Captain Dixon that the Associated Oil company would take its business away from the wharf."

"I am in a position to state that Hutchinson did not represent the Associated Oil company at that meeting. I would like to know from the mayor or any of the council members if such a statement was made and if so I wish to state that the statement was incorrect and false."

Councilman J. H. Chandler stated that she remembered such a statement being made, but at the time did not give it much credit as she believed it to be inaccurate.

Patton was assured by Garrard that the bids for the leasing of the wharf were received the full consideration of the city council.

Fisherman Have Price Agreement

A price agreement has been reached by the newly organized Pittsburg fishermen's union and the San Francisco wholesalers, as the result of a conference of the two organizations, according to reports received from Pittsburg.

Under the agreement the prices will not be arbitrary figures arrived at by either organizations, but will be adjusted with market quotations.

The conference was the result of the threat made by the fishermen that unless they were paid what they termed a fair price for their fish, they would refuse to fish.

Finger Printed Bullets To Be Used In Trial

scopic photograph of two "finger printed" bullets, one the bullet that killed McCarthy, the other a test bullet fired through what science asserts is the same gun.

Microscopists have been able for some years to see in a single field the images of two objects under two tubes of a compound microscope.

But no one, until recently, has ever been able to substitute the lens of the camera for the eye of the scientist.

John H. Fisher, ex-physicist of the bureau of standards; Phillip Gravelle, Barnard Medalist; Max Poser, microscopic designer; Chas. E. White and Mayor Calvin H. Goddard of New York, combined to classify firearms and bullets.

They determined that each rifle or pistol bore leaves its imprints on the projectile as clearly as the finger leaves its tell tale finger prints.

Heinrich, aware of their research, turned his mind to the problem and has perfected a method of photographing the "finger prints" of the bullets.

He is able now to obtain in a single picture markings of two bullets.

A small microscope, equipped with two microscopic tubes side by side is used.

The death bullet is put under one tube. A test bullet, fired from the weapon suspected as that used by the killer, is fired from the other tube. He image of each bullet is carried to a prism which reflects it to the other. This prism in turn conveys it to another and thus both bullets can be seen in one field under one magnifying eyepiece.

Substitution of the camera for the scientist's eye completes the method.

Colwell, the man on trial denied he killed McCarthy. Heinrich, basing his opinion on the photograph of the two bullets under the high enlargement of the microscope, maintains Colwell's gun was used in the murder.

If Colwell is convicted on Heinrich's evidence, it will establish a new precedent in American criminal procedure, it is said.

Three Million Acre Grant Is To Be Probed

maining million acres are situated less than 135 miles from the American border, according to the report.

Amid an atmosphere of keen apprehension, the State Department cabled Ambassador Fletcher at Mexico City to ascertain the facts in the situation, as the Senate foreign relations committee acted to obtain the same information.

Should the report prove accurate, Senator Borah, chairman of the committee, declared that it will make a sweeping investigation.

Recalling the Magdalena bay incident, Senator Johnson of California called the alleged concessions to the attention of the Senate shortly after it convened for the day's session, reading from newspaper dispatches from Los Angeles declaring that Dr. K. O. Osawa of San Pedro, Calif., had obtained the concessions to develop oil, rubber and vegetable dye resources through Col. R. A. Vasquez, a Mexican army officer.

Senator Johnson declared: "The report is apparently authentic, but I want to ask the chairman of the foreign relations committee if he will not call his committee together to ascertain just exactly what has occurred."

Senator Borah responded promptly, saying:

"We should have the full facts. I shall be very glad to call the committee together."

Later Senator Borah communicated with the state department. He learned that it had no information on the subject, but had cabled Ambassador Fletcher for verification. The senator then dispatched telegrams to several persons likely to know about the deal. Later he said he hoped to call the committee together if the facts proved to warrant such action.

If the concessions have been made, it is the consensus of opinion that the Senate will adopt a resolution repealing the warning contained in the Lodge resolution.

It declared that the United States looks with "grave concern" on the attempt of any foreign corporation or association to acquire a harbor or any other place in the American continent so situated as to threaten the security of this country in time of war.

Following the adoption of this resolution, negotiations for the Magdalena Bay concessions to the Japanese in 1912 were dropped.

The city council last night requested City Manager J. A. McVittie to send letters of thanks to various organizations sending floral pieces to the city at the dedication ceremonies of the opening of the new natatorium. Special thanks was authorized according to the Lion's club for the floral piece presented by that body; the California Art Tile company for the large plant and for the fountain installed as a gift by that company and the Richmond San Rafael Ferry for the pennant which it presented to the city.
